As businesses prepare to reopen, employers need to rethink how they deploy their workforce to protect vulnerable employees. The pandemic has taken a steep toll.

Reopening Businesses the Safe and Secure Way

Employees must be protected while health systems are particularly at risk. Corporate reputation needs to be protected. Corporate liability needs to be managed. Understanding who is at risk is key to a safe transition back to work. Because of this, there is an urgency to restart the economy.

Transitioning back to work safely is the new business imperative. The critical questions every employer needs to answer are:

- Who needs medical clearance?
- Who is vulnerable?
- Who is cleared to work?

Jvion’s Employer Recovery Package will give you the assessments you need to help get your employees back to work, and your business back to business.